

2000 Advisory Opinion

EC-COI-00-02 A town retirement board is a municipal agency within the meaning of the conflict of interest law and, as such, individuals who perform services for or hold offices, positions, employment or membership in or on the board are municipal employees within the meaning of that law.